

READY FOR THE ANGELES

Details of Programme Complete.

Ex-Gov. Wells Will Deliver Address of Welcome.

Other Spellbinders Will Be on Hand at Saltair and Lagoon—Special Time for Councilmen.

Plans for the entertainment of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce from the time of its arrival at 8:30 this morning have been completed by the Commercial club committee, even down to the minor details. If there is any hitch in the programme it will be due to accident and not to any oversight upon the part of the hosts.

Headquarters at Club.

All statements to the contrary notwithstanding, the headquarters of the Angelenos will be at the Commercial club. This is understood at both ends of the line. It is a matter of convenience that the guests should have a common gathering place, where they may always be found by the reception committee and that place will be the Commercial clubrooms. Wives have been put into the club by the Postal and the Western union companies and operators will be on duty to transmit personal messages free of charge to the families at home. The courtesy of the Remington Typewriter company, two stenographers will be at the service of the visitors in the clubrooms.

Programme at Reception.

At the reception this evening four rooms will be thrown into one and chairs will be provided for as many of the guests as space will permit. Punch will be served throughout the evening. The address of welcome will be delivered by President Elmer E. Wells of the club. President Joseph of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will reply. Senator W. A. Clark will follow. Judge C. C. Goodwin, Los Angeles and another Angeleno whose name has not reached the committee will make a few remarks. The closing address will be by Judge C. W. Powers. A string band of twenty instruments will provide the music for the occasion. Gov. Cutler and staff and the officers from Fort Douglas, with their wives, will assist the Commercial club members and ladies and the Mayor and City Council in receiving and entertaining the guests.

A Fine Concert.

The concert at the Tabernacle Tuesday evening will be a beautiful and grand affair. The public is cordially invited. Seats will be reserved for the Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial club in a roped area. The doors of the building and the gates to the Temple grounds will be closed at 8:30 in order to prevent any interruptions.

Programme for the Banquet.

Some programme for the banquet at Saltair pavilion Wednesday evening will include after-dinner speeches by Judge C. C. Goodwin, Judge E. F. Colburn, Los Angeles, and other Angelenos. Salt Lake, with a number of equally bright orators from the ranks of the visitors. Capt. Joseph E. Caine will be asked to decline the honor because of the serious illness of his father. A substitute has not yet been named.

Spellbinders Are Assured.

The list of speakers for the dinner at Lagoon Thursday evening has not been announced, but the prediction is confidently made that a full array of spellbinders will be on hand. Some slight variations are found in the programme for the entertainment of the City Fathers of the seaside metropolis. They will be taken to the Lagoon and the Lake officials. After the welcome at the depot at 8:30 the visiting dignitaries will be conveyed to the Knutsford, where a banquet will be served in their honor at 2 o'clock. Afterward there will be a visit of inspection to the City and County buildings, and a ride about the city. At 8 in the evening the official visitors will attend the reception at the Commercial club, and at 9 o'clock later, the guests will be taken to the Salt Palace to witness the outcome of an argument between one Prof. O'Keefe and one Doctor Gardener.

Offers Free Transportation.

The Commercial club is in receipt of a letter from the Southern Railway company, offering free transportation to the members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce from Los Angeles to Salt Lake. The Commercial club badges have been delivered and are very neat creations. A disk bearing the words "Commercial Club Committee" is suspended from a pretty metal pin by a short blue ribbon.

Drop Into Poetry.

In their greeting wired to President Hewitt of the Salt Lake Council Saturday night, the Los Angeles officials dropped into poetry, inspired doubtless by a premonition of the poetic land which they were about to visit. The dispatch reads:

"Los Angeles, June 10.

"We will travel by rail from ocean to lake, to give the glad hand to our friends in Salt Lake. Entire Council and other city officials extend cordial greeting just prior to departure.

"THEODORE SUMMERLAND,

"Chairman Board of Public Works."

This is the official programme for the week as approved by the Commercial club.

Monday, June 12.

A delegation from the Commercial club will meet the train bearing the Los Angeles guests upon its arrival and escort them to their hotel.

At 2 p. m. the visitors will gather at the Commercial club from which point will begin a trip to places of interest in and about the city, escorted by the members of the Twenty-ninth United States Infantry band and a dress parade by that regiment at Fort Douglas. From here the visitors will be returned to their hotels in time for dinner.

At 8 o'clock in the evening our visitors are requested to be present at the Commercial club promptly at 8:30 in the morning. Street cars will be in waiting there to take them to the Lagoon.

Model Roadway to Fort Douglas

Elegant Macadam Drive Is Now Under Construction by the Government.

The Penrose drive, for some weeks under construction by the Government, from Fort Douglas to a connection with Fort Douglas avenue, Popperston place, is about complete, and will soon go into service as the drive to Fort Douglas. There is not a finer specimen of macadam road-making in the country. The drive is a beautiful road, and the proposed road on the east end of the proposed row of officers' quarters, which are to extend north from the main entrance, about 100 feet. It is a fine piece of work, and will be a great improvement to the catch-basins at frequent intervals.

Plan for the Street.

The plan is to carry the improvement the full length of Fort Douglas avenue to its junction with Third street at the west end of Popperston place. This avenue is the main thoroughfare through Popperston, and is 100 feet wide. The proposed driveway proper will be forty feet wide and of macadam. Thirty feet on each side will be reserved for sidewalks, the macadam proper to be laid down between two rows of trees on each side of the street. The curbing and walks are to be of concrete.

Heavy Teams Barred.

It is expected that all heavy hauling to and from Fort Douglas will be over the Brigham street road, and the Penrose drive and Fort Douglas avenue reserved for light vehicles. The Government part of the work has been considerable, but in return for it a fine piece of work has resulted.

Water Trees are to be Planted Along the Drive, and the Country through which it passes Parked and Given Water Facilities.

LIKES TO TRY ORGANS.

Clarence Eddy Eager to Manipulate the Great Tabernacle Instrument.

Clarence Eddy, the famous American organist, who is to play in the Tabernacle this evening, arrived in the city early yesterday morning. He is accompanied by Mrs. Grace Morel Dickman, the contralto, who goes into grand opera next season in New York. Mr. Eddy talked for The Tribune last evening on his visit. He said, among other things, that he was very anxious to play the organ at the Tabernacle. He said that he had been playing the organ for many years, and that he was very fond of it. He said that he was very anxious to play the organ at the Tabernacle, and that he was very fond of it.

Programme Credit to All.

The parts of the programme were nearly all handled by members of the confirmation class, and in every case the children did work that was not only a credit to themselves, but their instructor. At the close of this part of the programme Rabbi Freund made an informal address, admonishing the children not to stop the work, but rather to continue it more energetically. He cautioned them to remember that they had only made a beginning and that future success depended upon their own diligence and industry.

Certificates Presented.

At the conclusion of the service President Jacob Mortz presented the members of the class with their certificates. The names of the members of the confirmation class are: Ralph Desky, Benjamin Lachman, Jerome Mooney, Marianne Oberdorfer, Josephine Well and Omega Wolf. After the usual preliminary services and the processional the following programme was rendered:

LATE ARMY ORDERS.

Changes Which Affect Officers and Men in Department of the Colorado.

First Lieut. Douglas McCaskey, Fourth cavalry, and Second Lieut. John S. McCleery, Twentieth infantry, aides-de-camp, are announced as personal staff of the commander of the Department of the Colorado.

NEWHOUSE BARN ABLAZE.

Firemen Arrive in Time to Prevent a Large Loss.

Two small fires engaged the attention of the department during the afternoon. The barn of Samuel Newhouse, the prominent mining man, was discovered in flames shortly after 2 o'clock. There is evidence to indicate that the fire started from a leak of gasoline in the rear of the building, but the cause is not definitely known. The firemen arrived in time to prevent a loss greater than $100, and the building is valued at about $300.

About an hour before this a run was made to Thirteenth East, between Second and Third streets, where two small frame barns belonging to Messrs. Porter and Lavenogues were blazing. The buildings were consumed at a loss of about $200. There was no one at home on the premises and Chief Bywater could ascertain nothing as to the cause of the fire. Both barns were empty at the time.

given in honor of the visitors and through the courtesy of the Presbyterian church of the Church of the Latter-day Saints, a musical festival in the Tabernacle.

Wednesday, June 14.

At 1:30 p. m. street cars will be in waiting at the Commercial club to convey the visitors to the Saltair station, from which point they will be taken to Saltair, where the day will be spent in bathing and dancing. Luncheon and refreshments will be served at Saltair and the party will probably be some speaking by Los Angeles and local spellbinders. From Saltair the visitors will return to the city at their pleasure.

Thursday, June 15.

This day our visitors will be left free for such personal inspection of the city as they may be pleased to make, until 4:30 in the afternoon, when they will gather at the Commercial club and take cars to the Lagoon station, from whence they will be taken by train to that resort. Supper will be served and there will be music, refreshments and speaking, the visitors being on this occasion the guests of the Commercial club.

Friday, June 16.

At 8:30 this morning cars will be in readiness at the Commercial club to take the visitors to Oregon Short Line station, from whence they will take a special train for a visit to the famous Lucin cut-off. Lunch and refreshments will be served on this train. This trip marks the end of the official programme of entertainment.

CONFIRMATION IN JEWISH TEMPLE

Services Were Very Impressive.

Scene That Will Not Soon Be Forgotten by Those Present.

Seven Young People Made Declaration of Their Allegiance to the Faith.

No more impressive confirmation exercises were ever held in the history of the Congregation B'Nai Israel of this city than those conducted by Rabbi Freund at the Jewish Temple yesterday morning. During the blessing of the children by Rabbi Freund a cello obligato was rendered, and so impressive was the scene that tears came to the eyes of many of the parents and church members seated in the audience. It was a scene that will not soon be forgotten by those who witnessed it.

Declare Allegiance to Faith.

During the service seven young people who have been undergoing a course of study in the tenets of Judaism and its history for some months, under Rabbi Freund, made a declaration of their allegiance to the faith. The services, which began at 11 o'clock, were very elaborate and well attended. Special music was a feature of the programme.

Programme Credit to All.

The parts of the programme were nearly all handled by members of the confirmation class, and in every case the children did work that was not only a credit to themselves, but their instructor. At the close of this part of the programme Rabbi Freund made an informal address, admonishing the children not to stop the work, but rather to continue it more energetically. Graduates Hear Baccalaureate

Rev. P. A. Simpkin Talks to Students on the Ultimate Purpose of Education.

Phillips Congregational church was filled with an audience of the students and friends of Gordon academy last evening, when the Rev. P. A. Simpkin preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the academy. The church was decorated with palms and roses. Miss Judith Evans sang the solo evening, "Rest." The quartette rendered an anthem and Mr. Paul Schmitt gave a beautiful violin rendition for the offertory.

National Life and Training.

The sermon of the evening was based on the injunction of Jesus, "Learn of Me." Mr. Simpkin said that history to see how largely we are indebted to the past for learning that has marked the life of the nation. He said that the life of the nation is the life of the world, and that the life of the world is the life of the universe. He said that the life of the universe is the life of God, and that the life of God is the life of the universe.

Value of Culture.

"But that, after all, is only primary, even though it is the primary. The life of the nation is the life of the world, and the life of the world is the life of the universe. He said that the life of the universe is the life of God, and that the life of God is the life of the universe.

Highest Moral Culture.

"The highest moral culture is essential to the true happiness and success in life. It is the life of the nation, the life of the world, the life of the universe. He said that the life of the universe is the life of God, and that the life of God is the life of the universe.

Relieved of His Bonds.

He paused, and the silence that followed was almost breathless. The candidate was then relieved of his bonds. He stood up and approached the bishop, then knelt humbly at his feet. The bishop placed his hands on the candidate's head and recited in Latin the words which made John Hegarty a priest of the Catholic church.

Sacrament of Confirmation.

The sacrament of confirmation was administered at the conclusion of mass. The bishop presented the candidate to the altar, and the candidate knelt at the altar. The bishop placed his hands on the candidate's head and recited in Latin the words which made John Hegarty a priest of the Catholic church.

Take a Middle Name.

It is usual for children to take a middle name at confirmation, in addition to the baptismal name. For example, a child who had been plain Margaret before confirmation, is given with confirmation the added name of Elizabeth, Beatrice or any other name in the long calendar of saints and martyrs of the church. It is the same with boys who are confirmed.

BUYS SUBURBAN PROPERTY.

Fremont Heights Changes Hands at a Good Figure.

This James K. Shaw Real Estate Agency reports the sale of what is known as Fremont Heights. This addition is north of Ninth South and west of Thirteenth East streets, and comprises about thirty acres. The purchasers were G. R. Bovey and R. E. McConaghy, and the purchase price $40,000. The feeling is certainly growing among Salt Lake people that Salt Lake realty, both inside and suburban, cannot but be a gilt-edge investment at the ruling prices.

GUESTS OF HOUSE PARTY.

Miss Clara Colburne of Rowland Entertains Friends.

Miss Clara Colburne of Rowland hall has been giving a house party for the past two days, and a very charming lot of young girls were her guests Saturday and Sunday. They were the Misses Virginia Beatty, Mary and Carey Marshall, George Moore, Allen McArthur, Josephine Jacobs, Norine Thompson, Margaret Stewart, Margaret Clark, Edith Good and Elsie Parsons. The jolliest of good times was had by the girls who returned to their homes last evening.
